

FINYON

Finance & Risk brought into focus.

Do you enjoy running complex and multifaceted Risk Management and Finance projects for clients in the Financial Services industry as well as project management? Do you like looking for solutions that are sustainable for our clients, and are you prepared to go the extra mile to deliver them? If so, then you have come to the right place because "we sharpen Finance & Risk". For our office in Zurich, we are seeking a:

SENIOR CONSULTANT focussing on Treasury and Risk Management for financial institutions

Become part of our team of highly qualified experts and apply your knowledge, talents and experience in risk management, capital market regulation and project management. Use your personality to mould FINYON, delivering solutions for prestigious clients in the financial services industry and contributing to FINYON's development.

WHAT WE OFFER

- You advise our clients on quantitative and regulatory issues. You develop solutions, concepts and prototypes, and conduct client workshops
- You deliver our client projects on time and on budget, while remaining focussed on the objectives
- You actively shape our future by networking across our industry, establishing new client contacts and actively contributing to acquisitions
- You build our expertise by developing new offerings and supporting FINYON's development
- You work alongside an experienced team in Zurich
- You also learn on the job through continuing professional development. We encourage you to ask increasingly sophisticated questions to help our clients achieve excellence

WHAT WE NEED

- You have an excellent degree with a quantitative background (Business Administration, Business Informatics or Natural Sciences)
- You have a natural affinity with numbers and logical processes, and/ or proven organisational skills, and like presenting your results with top-quality PowerPoint slides
- You are familiar with Basel III/IV, the Swiss Solvency Test and issues surrounding asset liability management, liquidity management or risk measurement from your professional practice (professional experience depending on seniority)
- You are totally customer-focussed, exceptionally committed, highly motivated and have great team spirit and a sharp analytical mind
- You take responsibility for pursuing your own continuing professional development to build your knowledge
- You communicate confidently in English as well as German
